

- Agreements between enterprises, decisions of their associations and common methods of business practice that aim to prevent or restrict competition or violate its conditions at the territories of the Sides;
- Actions, through which one or several enterprises using their dominant condition, restrict the competition on the whole or on the substantial part of the Side's territory.

Article 8

During implementation of tariff and non-tariff regulation of bilateral economic relations, for exchange of statistics and for implementation of customs procedures, the Sides will apply common nine-digit commodity nomenclature of foreign economic activity based on the harmonized system of description and coding of goods and on the combined tariff and statistic nomenclature of European Community. Herewith, for their needs, the Sides implement, in case of necessity, the development of commodity nomenclature beyond the bounds of nine-digits.

Establishment of standard pattern of the Commodity nomenclature is implemented on the basis of mutual agreements through representatives in relevant international organizations.

Article 9

1. Sides are agreed that the maintenance of the principle of the freedom of transit is the most significant term for achieving objectives of the present agreement, and the essential element of the process of their linking up in the system of co-operation and the international division of labour.

In this regard, each Side to the agreement will insure free and duty-free transit, through its territory, of commodity originated from the customs area of another Side and/or of third countries and designated for the customs area of another Side or of any other third country. Each Side will provide exporters, importers and conveyers with all existing and necessary facilities and services for transit security in terms not worse than the ones with facilities and services that are given to own exporters and importers.

2. The order and terms for passing of goods through territories of the countries are regulated in accordance with the agreement between the Government of Georgia and the Government of Armenia on the basic principles of transit, signed on 19 May 1993, in Yerevan.

Article 10

The present agreement does not prevent the right of any Side to implement governmental regulation measures that are considered to be necessary for protection of the Side's fundamental interests or that are unconditionally essential for fulfilment of international agreements, participant of which this Side is or intends to be, if such measures concern the following:

- Information concerning interests of national security;
- Trade in weapon, ammunition and military equipment;
